car steering wheel cover

The main function of a car steering wheel cover is to protect the steering wheel and prevent wear and tear. In addition, it can increase the comfort of the hands while driving, provide warmth in cold weather, and prevent the steering wheel from overheating in hot weather. Some steering wheel covers also have anti slip function, which allows drivers to better control the steering wheel and improve driving safety.

Car cleaning cloth

Car wipes are mainly used for cleaning and maintaining cars. They can effectively absorb dust, dirt, and water stains while avoiding scratching the car paint during the wiping process. The thick material makes the car towel more durable during use and can be cleaned and reused multiple times. Soft fluff ensures sufficient protection for the car paint during wiping, preventing scratches from occurring. This type of car towel is suitable for cleaning multiple parts such as the body, windows, and interior.

Car neck pillow lumbar support

The main function of neck pillows and lumbar supports is to provide comfortable support for drivers and passengers, relieving fatigue in the neck and waist during prolonged driving or sitting. Ergonomic design can conform to the curves of the human body, effectively reducing pressure on the spine and preventing discomfort caused by prolonged sitting posture. This type of neck pillow and lumbar support is suitable for installation on car seats and can also be used in places that require long-term sitting, such as office chairs, to enhance the comfort and health
